

Luna (Yellow 1917). 3.6 lb, $18/lb, 4.5" staple (unstretched), $64 total (not including shipping). 10% of this price will be donated to Maryland Sheep Breeder's Association, along with any funds paid in excess of purchase price.

Luna is a 94% pure Perendale yearling, "natural colored" (black). Her fleece is the second-lightest of our NC lamb fleeces, being a medium-dark gray, lighter at the cut end. The color fades to cream at the tips, and is darker at the front of the fleece than at the rear. Luna's fleece has some muddy tips, thanks to the fact that we had to pull the lambs off our hayfield early during the winter of 2019-2020, owing to the absence of fall rains/fall "flush" of grass growth. The mud washes off easily, fortunately. Luna's fleece has a staple length of 4.5" (unstretched). It has somewhat more VM than is average for our lamb fleeces, especially in the neck area. It weighs 3.6 pounds. Note: exposure of each photo has been adjusted in an attempt to match color as shown in photo to actual color.

Above: overview of Luna's fleece, from head towards rear quarters.

Above: view of front quarter of Luna's fleece, where VM is heaviest
(Continued on next page)

Above: view of middle of Luna's fleece

Above: view of rear quarters of Luna's fleece

(Continued on next page)

Above: three locks of Luna's fleece, taken at random from (top to bottom) front, middle, and rear quarters. All locks tested sound.

Same three locks after brief washing in tepid water with goat's milk soap.

(Continued on next page)

View of Luna's fleece, as bagged.